Liceo Scientifico "Carlo Cattaneo" – Torino 2020/2021

Classe: 3 E

Materia: Inglese

Prof. Massenzio Angela

Programma Svolto

Textbooks: 1) "It's Literature", vol. 1, Martelli, Bruschi, Nigra, Rizzoli Languages.

2) "Insight Intermediate", J. Wildman, OUP;

3) "Venture into First", AAVV, OUP.

4) "Grammar in Progress", Bonci, Zanichelli

1) "It's Literature"

- Historical and social background: the Celts, the Romans, the Anglo-Saxons, the Vikings; the Normans;
- Old English Literature;
- Poetry as a literary genre;
- Historical and social background: from the Norman kings to the Tudor dynasty;
- Middle English Literature;
- Medieval drama;
- The Romance;
- Beowulf: reading of the adapted poem; a Germanic legend; the plot; a perfect hero, main themes, characters and style;
- Beowulf, text analysis: "The battle between Beowulf and Grendel"; "Beowulf's funeral".
- Geoffrey Chaucer: "The Canterbury Tales"; the social estates; the author's aims, the characters; the main themes of the poem. Type of rhyme and meter;
- "The Canterbury Tales", text analysis: "The General Prologue"; the "Wife of Bath"; the "Lawyer";
- The Ballad;
- "Lord Randal", text analysis;

2) "Insight Intermediate"

Units 9 and 10

- Defining and non definind relative clauses;
- Participle clauses.

3) “Venture into First”

Units 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 of the textbook.

- Comparatives of adjectives and adverbs;
- Modifiers with comparatives;
- Negative prefixes to form adjectives;
- Present perfect simple: all usage situations;
- Present perfect simple and continuous in contrast;
- Used to and would; contrast with the simple past;
- be used to/get used to;
- Be into/be interested in/good at/fond of/keen on.
- So and such;
- The past perfect continuous;
- Narrative tenses in contrast;
- Modals of deduction: present, past, passive;
- Suffixes to form adjectives;
- The Future: all future forms; Future continuous and future perfect;
- Make and do;
- Say, speak, talk, tell;
- Get;
- Phrasal verbs;
- The Passive form;
- Have/get something done.

Torino, 7 Giugno 2021

I rappresentanti di Classe

L’insegnante

Angela Massenzio